Chapter 1: Class Teleportation.

「Fuwaaaaahh.....so sleepy.....」

That day, I came to the school using the road that I am used to walking through, while taking a yawn.

How can I say this, it's daily life as usual that has no changes.

The simple days of daily life wasted while growing to an adult.....I don't think that I don't like it. A brain that wants interesting, complicated, and thrilling things, I had enough of that around middle school.

Of course, having a very unique mental state during middle school, and being in agony after remembering the dark memories that is hidden within your heart, is what I think, an experience that anyone would have

Well, my name is Hanebashi Yukinari. A second year at some high school.

Tall, medium build, I think that my face is average.

I was told that I am a little blanky, but I wonder if that is true?

I don't do club activities or the like.

I don't feel that it has a meaning, and it's not like I want to do one.

Doing something like a club activity might become a page on our youth, but unfortunately I am only average at sports and studies, and I think I have no unusual characteristics.

But.....my friend said, "Can't understand your points but can be relied on when in trouble".

I sat on my seat at the classroom, and yawned again.

「Yo! Good Mornin! Weak during the morning as usual huh. Yukinari is」

The person that talked to me is my friend from grade school.....Un.

He's a person that I can feel happy of being called as a friend.

His name is Sakaeda Shigenobu.

Good in all sports and have excellent grades, personality is also good and has a lot of friends.

A superman that it would be more difficult to find someone he doesn't get along in the class.

Height is tall, how should I put this, I can say that he is blessed in all ways.

His face also very good in my standards.

And when I tell that to him sometimes, he becomes modest and gets shy.

Ever since I had got along with Shigenobu, I think that I have never got sarcasm from him at all.

「It's very sleepy」

「Did you play a game again? I can understand the feeling but you should moderate because it might affect your test」

「I know that, you know」

Like.....a connection that has a high frequency on being of the same class?

With that connection, a friend that I got along with that I could call as Osananajimi easily.

That is Shigenobu.

I think that I am blessed.

Because during things like group work, Shigenobu would be a group leader, and would invite me as if it was natural, and because of that I was never isolated.

Promotion and advancement about the factions created within the class, things like that, I had never got trouble with that because of Shigenobu.

If I were to say Shigenobu's faults.....his luck in lottery, like in net games, isn't that good.....I think.

「Do you have subjects that you got behind?」

「n—.....not really. Rather, I'm sleepy. Maybe I should sleep until morning assembly」

「Taking a nap around 10 minutes, you say.....well, that is Yukinari-ish」

Just like that, today will pass by like the days before as usual, we were still thinking like that during this time.

Around the time when the class for the second period, I guess?

「And, for that, in this official——」

When I was taking notes of the instructor's class, I saw geometric patterns that suddenly appeared on the blackboard.

What is that?

「W-What is it?!!」

The instructor also sensed the abnormality of the situation, and tried to erase the geometric patterns that appeared on the blackboard, he slides the blackboard eraser.

「W-What is that?!」

「Someone's prank?」

But, the geometrical patterns.....the magic circle-like thing didn't disappear.....it emerged clearer, and shot a flash.

「Uwa!」

「S-So bright!」

「E-Everyone keep calm! I don't know what's happening but to be sure we should evacu――」

Before Shigenobu had finished saying that.....like a switch that had been turned off, my consciousness was cut off with a click.....

「n.....」

A somehow plant smell that stimulates my nose.....looks like I fell down.

While stressing my eyebrows, I opened my eyes, and raised my body.

I don't know what situation I'm in, but it looks like I was being laid down carelessly on grassy-like place.

I mean.....is this some kind of camp site?

There aren't any tents, but in a open lot-like vacant lot that is surrounded by trees.....it looked very deep so maybe a forest huh.

「W-What?!」

I looked towards where the voice is.

And then, that was the instance that everyone in the class woke up slowly.

「What was that really?」

Someone whispered that, and words that was similar to that continued.

「n～.....where is this?」

「That's right! Where is this!」

「Everyone calm down.....」

The instructor who stood said that while looking around.

「How can I calm down!」

「We are deep in a mountain when we noticed you know!」

That's true.

What kind of circumstance made us come to a place like this?

But, the situation is the situation.

「To be sure, I'll do a roll call—! From number 1—」

Just like that, the instructor called the student's name one by one.

Uhhh, the first thing to do here, is to organize the situation right.

My clothes are the school's uniform because we are taking classes, the bag..... there is a bento inside.

Wallet and student ID card, and the 1-year smartphone that my parents bought me.....

To be sure, are we still in class right now?

Even though I was thinking it was unscrupulous, I looked at the screen of the smartphone.

.....It is out of service. There is no antenna standing.

「O-Oi.....where is this」

The one that was using his smartphone just like me whispered.

「The navigation isn't also working」

Recent smartphones have GPS function in it, and you can check your current position in it.

But.....if even that wasn't functioning, then I can look at it like we were taken into a very deep mountain.....I guess?

「Group abduction?!」

The class' girl raised her voice.

That's true, it's normal to think of that right.

But, if it really is abduction, it wouldn't be established without a culprit.

「Everyone please calm down!」

The instructor that has finished the roll call, clapped his hands and gathered attention.

「Even Sensei don't know what is happening. But, there isn't a good thing that will happen if we went into a panic right now. Everybody should take care of the situation calmly」

Well, that's right huh.

Being told that, the classmates seemed to regained composure at least.

「n? What's this?」

To the direction that everyone's sight went, I also looked toward it.

In the middle of the plaza.....a monolith-like black slate was towering.

「Is it an artifact from somewhere or something?」

「Ah～.....like an art forest? Like the television's surprise and dokkiri-like something」

「Is that true?」

While chatting like that, I stared at the slate.

And then, I realized that there was letters carved in it.

「.....n?」

In that slate.....were names of my classmates from top to bottom carved in it.
It was too far to see anything at first, but I can see that names is written from below.

Of course, my classmates also noticed that.

And my name is also carved in that slate.

Hanebashi Yukinari Ability Teleportation

.....Teleportation? What?

Everyone was tilting their head while confirming what was the slate.

And then, the I knew what was the letter written in the very top part.

Ability List.

「Ability List?」

I talked to Shigenobu who was standing beside me by facing each other.

What it “Ability” that you say?

At the same time when I was thinking of that, a sound like Pikon echoed in my head, and in my sight.....a mystery window came out.

「W-What?!」

「What’s the matter?」

「Something sounded, and in my sight.....can’t you see it Shigenobu?」

「Eh? Ah, I heard something. Uwa! What?」

It looks like it's something that would appear if you're conscious of it, something that isn't seen by anyone else.....it's something that appears for one person or the other.

For the mean time, while the classmates were buzzing, I confirmed the mysterious window that came out.

Hanebashi Yukinari Level 1

Level? What is that, a game's cliché-like entries.

I mean.....this window.....isn't it perfectly the status icon that usually comes out on games?

If I check it very well, even a more detailed ability numbers was listed.

Well.....as expected of a level 1, all ability numbers were all one-digit.

「It is very well-made.....but how did they do this? I can't understand it's mechanism.....its not like they're showing it through smoke」

「n～.....isn't it too different?」

I couldn't think of it as a scientific phenomenon.

With my objection, Shigenobu immediately changed how he thought.

「That's true.....」

「What the hell is this!」

The class representative called out a dispute.

I know how you feel, but your voice is too loud.

「Who knows.....?」

Even if you ask me to explain it in details, there's no way of explaining it.
I think that nobody who is in this place can explain that.

Chapter 2 – Ability

Chapter 2: Ability

「This is status, right!」

The who was saying those words, in a loud voice that sounds a bit happy, was Taniizumi Kazuki.

Well, it's status alright.

Even if it's not me, anybody who had played games would've figured that out.

「Status? Is that the term about worrying about the evaluation of others?」

「That's way out of line! It's the game's icon! Class-representative-sama doesn't even know that huh」

「Probably didn't play games at all?」

Taniizumi and his entourage makes fun like that of the class representative.

「Mu.....I have played a little. Mostly action games, intellectual games, shogi and othello and the like. Recently, my boom is minesweeper」

Uwa～.....even if it's a game, he answered different kinds of games that Taniizumi was talking about with confidence!

This fossil-like person, they really exists.

It's a person I only had small talks with so I didn't know.

「Anyways, we cannot go along with this kind of game. I don't know who, and how they took us here, but we should quickly go back to the city.」

「Even if you say that.....」

Unlike Taniizumi and the guys who have some kind of expectation, we looked around.

We couldn't confirm any kind of road that leads toward outside of the forest from this open lot.

It was like we were taken into this very deep part of the mountain by a helicopter, because the forest have no signs of being touched by humankind.

Well.....we can only look at it from a distance though.

There are a lot of them, the birds that are flying by.

I tried to check them by focusing my eyes.....but they're too far so I couldn't see them properly.

But, is it my imagination that they somehow look very huge?

「How will you know which way to go, to go back to the city?」

「u.....A-At times like these we should be calm and write emergency signals on the ground, and then——」

Just like that, the class representative started to say the templates of emergency manuals.

You are appointed as something like secretary by the student council right?

You were holding your chest high saying you'll be the next student council president, but it seems that you are unreliable during times of emergencies.

「In other words, wait here for rescue? Although you were saying we should go out of the forest」

「u.....If that's the case we should look at the slope of the mountain, and start going down. We should know the direction by looking at the sun」

I don't know if he seemed reliable or not.

That said, what he's saying is templates so maybe it would be worth trusting in?

Only on the assumption, that this situation is normal, though.

「Then, we should first organize around there. Nothing will start if we don't investigate anything. Sensei is going to confirm the forest for a bit. Everyone else should investigate wherever you think that is safe」

「Yes～」

Just like that, replying sparsely, even though the students are still confused, we started to investigate in the mean time.

Though, even if I said that.....there is only a baseball park-like open lot nearby, and the investigation finished quickly with people this many in the class.

The result was, we only found a well and the slate.....that was it.

「Yukinari, do you know what is going on?」

Shigenobu asked me implicitly.

「There are a lot of possibilities that come to my mind, though I am curious about the thing that came out from the black board before we woke up」

「.....I agree. I also think that was the cause. But.....what was that?

「Shigenobu should also have clues, or possibilities that comes up your mind right?」

I vaguely think that it's a little different though?

I looked at Shigenobu while thinking that was something that wouldn't happen in reality.

Probably, Taniizumi and the others were excited because they were expecting something like that.

「Well, yeah」

「Un. Like being summoned to another world.....about something like a fantasy like that wouldn't happen in reality」

If we investigated thoroughly the circumstantial evidence, that fits the best though.

In reality, things like the Status that can only be seen by himself are occurring, and we can select things like skills in their entry.

Just like, it was saying that we can fight anytime.

「Denying it from our head isn't good.....thinking like that, maybe it is biased with child-like dreams though」

「Don't tell me that.....but.....」

There are also ones that believes seriously, that we were really kidnapped, inside the class.

It's the class' girls that was being annoyed from earlier and was restless.

Boys are familiar with stories like summoning to another world and with games, so we just thinking about it with our dreams, but on the girls' part, thoughts that they've become victims in somekind of a crime are swirling within them.....it probably looks.

Well, within those girls, some of them were also reacting the same way like Taniizumi was.

「I'll go calm them down for a bit」

「Yeah, you should go. Cool Guy Shigenobu」

「Yukinari!」

Although he was a little annoyed, he smiled back wryly and went to calm down the girls.

Well, it's true that it isn't the kind of situation for saying jokes.

Even so, it can also be said that we calmed down enough to say jokes.

「Are you okay? I don't know what is going on, but let's do our best so that we can go home quickly」

「U-Un」

Shigenobu was the class' charisma in the first place, so everyone's reaction was good.

「But.....there's really nothing here」

「I wonder what is this」

The sight of the class' boys were busy.....I'm sure that they are checking their status.

They were chatting just like that.

I also, well, I was have only checked it earlier though.

Clicking the ability entry.....Ah, it seems that the ability's cursor activates with a click.

Setting the target.....

Just like that, everyone was checking their status dubiously, but the next instance!

「Uwaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaahh!!」

We heard a scream from the forest, and the instructor sprints towards us.....
What is it?!!

From the instructor's behind, a rat that was as big as a dog.....was weird to call it, living things that horn-like something growing in its head were going after him.

「Kyaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa!!」

The girls raises their screams.

You're too noisy! There's no free time to raise a scream right now!

A rat that's size is attacking you know!

I mean, it's rat right?

I focused my senses and glared at it.

Horned Rat

The rat's name enters my sight.

As if "This is a game's tutorial you know", it was that kind of situation!

「Leave it to me!」

The first one who moved was Taniizumi.

He released a ball of flame from his hand, and pitched it with power towards the horned rat.

「Uwa!」

The instructor dodged the ball of fire that Taniizumi threw in the last minute.

「Chu?!!」

Then it hit the horned rat that was charging towards the instructor from behind.

「Chuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu!!」

The horned rats went on flames and started to raise screams of death.

「One more time!」

「Ah, that's sly! Let me do it too!」

The carefree Taniizumi and his friends, starting from ball of flames, started to kill the horned rats with blades of wind-like attacks.

The instructor couldn't stand up, crouches and protects his head.

You would think that's pathetic, but I couldn't make fun of him because it was the best way to protect one's body.

「Haha! Wow! It looks like we really came into another world!」

Taniizumi and the rest who took care of the horned rat, picked up the horned rat's carcass and were laughing.

It's not like I can't understand their feelings, but there's something that caught my mind.

What's with that "I'm happy have encountered an accident"-like reaction.

This kind of person, he probably take pictures of the victims of road accidents with his smartphone.

「W-What was that right now.....Taniizumi-kun. You.....what is that」

「What, you say.....this is the ability of course! I have.....obtained the strongest power!」

Just like that, Taniizumi and the rest declared that they awakened their powers with excitement.

I think that it's the strongest power is saying too much though.

「Power.....that's about the ability right?」

Shigenobu who was protecting the classmates asks confirmation to Taniizumi.

I mean, it's surprising that Shigenobu was protecting our classmates in that instant though.....

「That's right! Once again, we should organize the situation and check it. I'm sure.....we're going to a survival yo?」

Assuming that, that is the right situation.....why are you guys, the delinquent position of the class, acting like the strongest so happily?

That's completely a losing flag you know.

These guys, aren't they reading mangas?

No, they're reading it so they could react like this, huh?

But.....their adaptability is too high.

During this kind of situation, delinquents should be acting violently without thinking, treats the classmates badly, and tries to dominate the class, well, that's the cliché though.....

I wonder what will happen.

And while I was calmly analyzing the situation.

「Chuuu!!」

「Oh? Reinforcements huh! I will kill you instead yo!」

Just like that, Taniizumi and the guys were fighting the new horned rats that appeared.

Chapter 1 <-> Chapter 3

Chapter 3 – Ability Confirmation

Chapter 3: Ability Confirmation

After there aren't any more reinforcements showing, we decided to have a meeting with everyone.

It had passed a few hours, and it's almost the evening.

Taniizumi and the guys that seemed to be able to move, went to the forest to collect firewood, and created a bonfire in the middle of the open lot.

The monsters.....as the monster-repellant huh?

「For the mean time, we should confirm the situation!」

Taniizumi, who couldn't restrain his excitement, leading, he said that with a happy tone.

「I don't know how did it happened, but it looks like we came to another world, and awakened to strange powers! That is something that is very clear to anyone yo!」

「Well.....」

「I agree」

The boys group that was familiar to games nodded positively.

I also agree. Even Shigenobu is like that.

And a part of the girls group seemed to understand.

「But, is that kind of situation.....really possible?」

「It can't be helped since it is happening like this in reality! Don't escape reality and just accept it yo!」

「There's no way I can accept that!! Let me go home!」

The girls.....representative, shouted with a hysteric voice.

Taniizumi heard that reaction, and looked at that with very bored eyes.

Even so, compared than Taniizumi and the guys, the girls reaction was normal.

It's not like I don't understand the feeling though.

I'm think that I'm also that side.

「I dunno how to back. Just accept the reality. If you can't, shut up and just go escape reality!」

「What did you say!! You, enjoying this situation——」

When she was saying that, she was stopped and held back by her girl allies and the boys.

「And? Taniizumi-kun. How did you release that ball of fire?」

The class representative and the instructor asked Taniizumi at the same time.

「That's simple」

「Click where the ability shows in the sight with will, just like cashing out money from the ATM, specify the target and activate.....right?」

To my answer, Taniizumi clapped his hands exaggeratedly like saying it was correct.

No, what's with that reaction.

Just like a delinquent, he knows how to fight, but he can't read the air.

Look around.

There are more of those who felt unpleasant feelings you know.

「Correct! It looks like there's also a cooldown, but it looks like the applications of these powers are wide」

Taniizumi shows off by coating flames on his fist.

In the latter half, he was using that to punch the horned rat.

「It's strength can also be adjusted with inspiration. And also, the living things that comes out.....you can get experience points by defeating monsters!! I already became level 2 too」

Fumu.....can you really gain experience points by defeating that.

It's completely a game.

「There's also the "point" thing that is gained, but we can check that later right」

Just like he said, the instructor and the class representative swirls their eyes and activates their abilities.

「A-Amazing.....on what principle is this working?」

「Equation or formula.....what kind of elements is it? ESP, the mind makes some kind of interference——」

「Ah～.....without something like that, you should just think you became able to use abilities or magic yo!!」

Taniizumi started explaining as if the class's delinquent failure became its top in a day.

It looks like he would put everything away as magic.

「Well.....it would be like that huh」

「Yeah, I'll just use it if I can」

Just like that, the boys group adapted quite quickly and started confirming their abilities.

The girls group also, although while being confused, they started to check it because they knew it was needed to be done.

「Well, your abilities that is written on this slate is what it is though. Let's start with checking on what we can do yo!!」

In Taniizumi's leadership, we checked the abilities from top to bottom.

Uhhh.....Taniizumi haD Flame User as the ability name.

And, there are also those that were simply named as Ice User.

And with that, it became Shigenobu's turn because it was the attendance number order.

「Shigenobu, your ability, Smith is written. What can you do?」

「Eh? U～n.....my ability.....un. It says points are not enough」

「Ah? Point huh? Transfer.....looks like it can. Here, take it!」

「.....I got it. I'll try」

Shigenobu stood in front of the bonfire, and took the firewood towards the fire.

The firewood softly floated, coated by flames, it somehow starts making a figure.

It was a very, fantastic sight.

It looks like creation would take a while, and after five minutes, the firewood and flames floated and made a circle.

After that, the flames that coated the firewood splatters.....and it changed into a single rod.

Is it a club?

「The feeling after using it, I probably use the something like a hammer to hit it, but this is the limit with only firewood and fire」

「Isn't that a club! Oh? It can be seen in the status! That's a convenient ability yo」

Taniizumi answered eagerly.

「It's something that can be used using materials huh」

「It looks like that」

「Then tomorrow, I get something and let you make something!」

At that time Ghuu.....a sound like that echoed.

「I'm hungry.....」

「Endure it, I'll search something to eat in the forest tomorrow. I mean, there's someone that uses Cooking as an ability right!!」

Taniizumi looked towards the person who had the Cooking ability.

Don't tell me, you're saying something like eating this rat?

「At worst, use you ability to cook this rat!」

It looks like, it bullseye.

Well, at the worst situation, there are chances of that happening though.

「Ueh.....」

Taniizumi, although as expected, he also agrees with that reaction, he having nasty look.

The ability that makes monsters edible would be convenient right～.

「It uses magic powers and points anyways, we should get through the nice using the bento we brought yo!!」

Everyone was eating their bento's a bit conservatively so they can endure their hunger.

I thought Taniizumi who showed his strength would declare monopoly right now, but it looks like he had moderation in that part.

「Well, next」

Well, just like that, the classmates explains their abilities one next to the other.

And, it became my turn.

「Hanebashi Yukinari, your ability.....Teleportation huh. What kind of ability is it? Don't tell me you can go wherever you want huh」

「I'm still confirming it. Why are you asking so close」

I activated my ability and selected Teleportation.

A cursor emerges.

「Can we return to Japan with Teleportation?!」

The girl leans while shouting hysterically and draws closer to me.

「Who knows.....I don't know until I try」

I, myself, do not understand what my ability is.

I tried to use it, and just like it was casting, the cursor changed into an hourglass and started falling.

I can cancel it if I want.

「Return me! Return me to Japan!」

The hysterical girl grabs my collar and started shaking and strangles me!

I got caught by someone troublesome.....

「Calm down!」

When everyone around somehow told her to calm down, the hysterical girl stopped strangling me.

Khu.....I had a bad time.

「It looks like it'd take time to activate huh」

「Well, I'll try it」

「Un」

I targeted the firewood and imagined to moving it.

It's not like the a list of where I imagined to send it comes out, but I somehow could see where I can send it.

Is it something decided by creativity?

For the mean time, I commanded for the firewood to jump to somewhere else.

.....the hourglass started to fall.

「.....Not yet?」

「It's just started you know. It takes time like Shigenobu's」

「It doesn't look it can be used in battle」

Khu.....Taniizumi looked at me with eyes that are completely making a fool of me.

Before long, the hourglass fell completely, and the firewood shines in an instant, and it teleported to the place I targeted.

「Oh～that's plain」

Shut up!

I was saying that to myself, but it's patience right now.

「Then, let's test with that Teleportation ability if we can return to Japan. It looks like somebody wants to go home too」

「Taniizumi! Are you saying we should do human experiments with that?!」

「Ah? It looks like Otsuka wants to go back right, isn't that good」

Otsuka is the surname of the hysterical girl.

It isn't good at all.

How are you going to take responsibility if it fails.

「If I'm going to stay here for a minute or a second, I'd rather do anything!」

Ehh～.....you'll agree with that.

How much of confusion is Otsuka in.

It felt like she was only thinking of going back.
